

Hydraulic Fracturing

in Colorado: A Public Forum

You are invited to attend a public forum about hydraulic fracturing, commonly known as hydrofracing. The discussions and presentations within the forum are designed to support public officials' and citizens' understanding of hydrofracing and its effects upon the Colorado environment. You will hear from, and be able to converse with, public and private experts in the technology and regulation of hydrofracing.

This forum is hosted by the American Institute of Professional Geologists (AIPG) the Colorado Section of AIPG and Mountain & Plains ERC. The geoscientist practitioners of AIPG are concerned, as all citizens are, about the impacts and effects of mineral and energy development upon the environment.

August 8, 2009 - 9:00 am to 5:00 pm
AIPG Members - $60.00
Non-AIPG Members - $75.00
(registration fee includes a boxed lunch and drink)

Register on-line or print a registration form and mail, fax or email it to AIPG.
www.aipg.org

Ramada Inn & Suites of Glenwood Springs
124 W. 6th Street
Glenwood Springs, Colorado 81601
(970) 945-2500

AIPG, 1400 W. 122nd Avenue, Suite 250, Westminster, CO 80234
(303) 412-6205, Fax (303) 253-9220, email cld@aipg.org